Messy Play

“Play that incorporates rich textural experience allows children to express their emotions through manipulating the materials and refines their sense of touch. The richer the textural experience, the richer the cognitive and language development will be”.

LIBRARY VISITS: Waterford Early Learning Centre feel very privileged to receive monthly visit from the Librarian from Thornton library. The next visit will be Wednesday 20th February.

Separation Anxiety in Young Children & Babies:

Separation anxiety is normal in early childhood. It usually starts when a child is approximately six to eight months old and will last until they are around 4 years of age.

Separation anxiety occurs when a child is attempting to feel safe in a very scary world (especially in new setting and with new people). Your child may exhibit such behaviours as; crying, tantrums or clinging. Just remember that all these responses are healthy reactions to separation anxiety.

Your child’s educator will work closely with your child/children and your family to ensure that they form trusting and meaningful relationships, thus providing your child/children with a secure sense of belonging.

Learning Outcome 1: Children have a strong sense of identity – Children feel safe, secure and supported.
